New League Grows Out of Postoffice Quint in Departmental Circuit.

By KIRK C. MILLER.

To the battalion of bowling leagues which aiready exhale a nightly thunder from the myriad of alleys of Washington, now comes another company of rollers to join in on the incessant bombardment of pins. It is the Postal Savings Duckpin League, and the young league has taken up a position at the Palace bowling alleys which it will endeavor to defend until late in the spring, at which time its schedule is due to expire.

Washington's youngest duckpin organization is fostered by the members the Postoffice team of the Departmental Duckpin League. Messrs. Pearson, Neff Crissey, Mattison, Lyon and barnhart, all belonging to the latter quint, have surrounded themselves with a fast coterie of alley artists, and each of them captains one of the six teams in the new circuit. These teams are of their set when he rolled 115 in his alphabet, and three matches are to be rolled weekly. The afternoons of every Monday, Wednesday and Friday will find two of them struggling for supremacy at the E street institution, each team.

Five teams in the newly formed Patent Attorneys League today stand tied for second place, each of the following. Chandlee, Pattison, Coleman, W. G. and M. and Owen, having a record of three games won and three games lost, and a percentage of .500. Owen's two wins from Chandlee Thursday night created this unusual condition, but the match tonight between Irimie and Evans will bring about immediate relief for the

By THE PROBLEM EDITOR.

Today's problem should be a cinch for the fans who are tellowing Billy Evan's baseball problems. It deals with the freak play builted by Hermann Schaefer, the Nationals' comedian, who, by the way, has one of the best baseball heads in the husiness.

"Schaef" not only had the players on his team and the other learn guessing, but the umpires and 'ans as well. You all remember the day he stole first base? The play has lived to be talked of, and is still going the rounds. Some of, and is still going the rounds. Some of you fans remember the famous and skillful bit of work, and many of you

Mohawk today remains in third place in the standings of the Y. M. C. A. circuit as a result of its two victories over the Niagara quint. Earl Elker's three games of 102, 116 and 119, respectively, is an example of some of the best rolling that has been seen this season at the sasociation alleys, and is deserving of commendation from his teammates.

Four teams participated in Thursday night's contests in the Intercouncil (K. of C.) League. Carroll had an easy time, pocketing all games rolled with place and since has stayed within the fence of the y. M. C. A. Duck place honors in the Y. M. C. A. Du in Washington that created all kinds of gesslp and, at the time, considerable confusion.

It was late in the game, the eighth or ninth liming, with the score a trend two men out. Schaefer was on hist and Milen, a very fast man, on third. The batter was rather weak against the pitcher doing the twirling, and the pair hoped to pull the louble steal. The opposition refused to fall for the play and made no attempt to get Schaefer as he raced to second. Getting within a foot of the bag he went back to first. Then he did the same thing over again, but this time he remained on second until the putcher. Then he stole back to first base.

This was a new phase to the play, immediately the visiting club was up in the air. The ball was thrown to second and the fielder toucned the lag, but received no decision from the compire. The ball was then thrown to first, but immediately Schaefer started for second. This thing kept up for the visiting team, angered that his layers were unable to retire Schaefer, rushed from the bench to the imidd.

WHO'S WHO ON ALLEYS

Knight of Columbus and knight of the alleys are the two most applicable terms we can apply to F. M. McLaughlin, who helps rule the destinies of the Intercouncil and Carroll Duckpin leagues. Of the first organization, he is no lesser a light than its president, and he is a member of the board of directors of the Carroll Council. "Mac," as he is dubbed by his fellow bowlers on the Columbia quint, has one motto-viz: Moderation in all things. He is one of the real enthusiastic duckpin adepts of the city who doesn't actually sleep on the alleys. No one in either of the leagues to which he belongs worships the duckpins more than does he, but he knows how to get everything good out of the game without allowing himself to creep into the "maniac" class.

McLaughlin bowls an extraordinarily swift ball, which issues forth from the center of the alley, and usually maintains that course. This style of rolling has won an average of about 101 for him in the two circuits in which he rolls, and he is satisfied to go along at that speed, with-out trying any fancy shots at the duckpins. Years ago McLaughlin belonged to the Arcade League for about a minute, but that old motto of his commenced to work on his conscience, so he withdrew from the latter
